

We are hiring!

Portfolio Manager (f,m,x)

Fulltime, remote work possible

ABOUT US

We are a leading, healthcare dedicated FinTech company, with a special focus on financing digital healthcare solutions.

Our mission is to facilitate and enable impactful investments into medical breakthrough innovation to disrupt and improve healthcare delivery models, products, and services. We enable our investors to build their very individual portfolio of healthcare start-ups - according to their personal investment focus.

A cooperation with EIT Health, and a growing network of partnerships across Europe, allow us to source and evaluate the most promising healthcare investment opportunities, structure their financing rounds, and enable healthcare technology-driven investors, such as Business Angels, UHNWIs, Family Offices, and Corporate Investors, to participate in deal-by-deal healthcare investment opportunities.

THE ROLE

As we are expanding our healthcare direct investment activities across Europe, financing and supporting young and aspiring healthcare companies to innovate healthcare, we are looking for a Portfolio Manager who will help us manage a portfolio of direct investments in healthcare start-ups, predominantly in the DACH region, as well as source and assess new investment opportunities by

- maintaining in depth analytical knowledge of the financial markets and competitive landscape with focus on the Healthtech space
- identify industry trends and match them with our investment focus and deal selection process by benchmarking potential investments against the portfolios fund's risk - return objectives, synergies, industry diversification and guidelines
- communicating with portfolio companies to obtain additional information or negotiate changes to terms and conditions identify bottlenecks/shortcomings in the portfolio companies early on
- tracking the performance of our investee companies and drive follow-on investments systematically where it fits our investment strategy and approach.

- preparing reports for investors on the portfolios fund's performance, including updates on individual investments
- supporting the preparation of reporting procedures for portfolio fund management including the development / improvement of reporting processes towards our stakeholders
- representing the interests of Aescuvest and our Limited Partners on portfolio level

You will be able to contribute your ideas and professional value add from day one. We will offer you the opportunity to work remotely and from partner offices anywhere in Europe, e.g. Stockholm, Brussels, Munich, Paris, London and many more. You are highly motivated and driven by the goal to innovate healthcare by applying an equally innovative approach to venture financing.

WHY JOIN

We back European entrepreneurs, founders, and management teams whose innovative approach to improve healthcare will shape the next level of innovation to improve healthcare processes, enhance healthcare system and boost healthcare outcomes. We want you to become a core team member and are ready to invest in your career and personal growth.

WHAT YOU NEED TO SUCCEED

You are analytical, well organized, but flexible. You are detail focused, and execution focused, while keeping the bigger picture in mind. You have the entrepreneurial mindset and a dealmaker's attitude, to successfully interact with the management teams of the companies we invest in. You are comfortable with interacting and building relationships with our investors (Family Office, UHNWIs, Corporate Venture Partners and Private Wealth Consultants in the private banking sector). Your interpersonal and English language skills are impeccable, a second language would be beneficial.

- Bachelor's Degree (ideally in finance or business administration), healthcare background is a plus
- Experience with financial transactions, related legal matters, fundraising, ideally (but not necessarily) in the startup context
- Experience in project management, including legal processes
- Strong analytical and organizational skills

APPLY NOW

Please get in touch by sending us your motivational letter, a CV, and your salary expectation: hr@aescuvest.eu